About Us

Welcome

Our mission is to provide you with high quality inkjet printer supplies at great savings and superior customer service. If you met us for the first time on eBay, Amazon or Half.com or through one of our many retail partners welcome back. We appreciate you thinking of us again. If you have never done business with us in the past check out our auctions on eBay and see what customers think about their experience with Circesdad®.

Whether you are planning to purchase a few cartridges or dozens you are at the right place. Our prices are set very low to save you money every day of the week. And for US customers shipping is always FREE. To purchase inkjet cartridges click on the Inkjet Store link on the left.

We got into this business in 1997 after spending far too much money for far too long on inkjet cartridges. Sure we had gone the route of refill kits but found that the hassle and mess (the stains on the set tub in the utility room are still there) just didn't make sense. That's when we were introduced to 3rd party compatible cartridges. To this day we still believe they are an excellent value for saving money without sacrificing print quality.

But now we think we have found an even better way.

InkSaver software. We were introduced to this program a few months ago by one of our customers. A little skeptical, we gave it a try and to our amazement it really works. It has doubled the life of all cartridges on our Epson C80 and SC600. More pages, less ink, lower cost per page and no noticeable difference in print quality. We liked it so much we became a distributor and we are offering it to all of our customers.

If you use an inkjet printer (see list of compatible printers) on a computer running a Windows 98 or later operating system, this software is a must have tool for you. Whether you buy inkjets from us or not, you should have this software. In fact if you are convinced that only the manufacturers cartridges can work for you, you should not go another day without this software. After all, you stand to save the most money, because you are already paying the highest prices for inkjet printing. To get the whole story click on the InkSaver link on the left.
