Cheap prints

Inksaver ($34.99, www.strydent.com), from Strydent Software Inc., is a software program that allows the user to set the amount of ink used in printing.

At Inksaver's 25-percent ink-reduction setting, text still looked sharp and presentable, while colors lost saturation and pictures become slightly grainy.

At 75 percent reduction, text looked washed out and colors were very pale, but still better than "draft" mode on most printers.
